

YOU'RE INVITED

Join the JOURNAL EDITORIAL BOARD

Would you like to join a team of volunteers who edit and publish scholarship in Learning Development?

Time Required

The role requires commitment all year round, with peak times twice a year, usually in Spring and late Autumn. Monthly meetings take place via video conferencing.

Skills Required

Excellent communication skills, experience of writing for publication, knowledge of current debates in Learning Development, confidence in using technology, attention to detail, effective time management, and passion for Learning Development.

Gain Experience

As a member of the editorial group, you will contribute to the evolution of the Journal, shape its policies, gain insight into the wide range of LD initiatives in HE, and improve your peer-reviewing skills. You will also have a chance to lead on a particular area of the Journal's activity.

Roles and Responsibilities

Working with a team of editors, communicating with authors and reviewers, assisting in the peer review process, sharing expertise, attending meetings and advising on strategies, as well as acting as an ambassador for the Journal.

If you are interested in joining the Journal of Learning Development in Higher Education Editorial Committee and would like to discuss further, please email admin@aldinhe.ac.uk
